How to Recover License on Windows

DATE: March, 2019

AUTHOR: Support

In this technote we will teach you how to recover Bodno License on Windows.

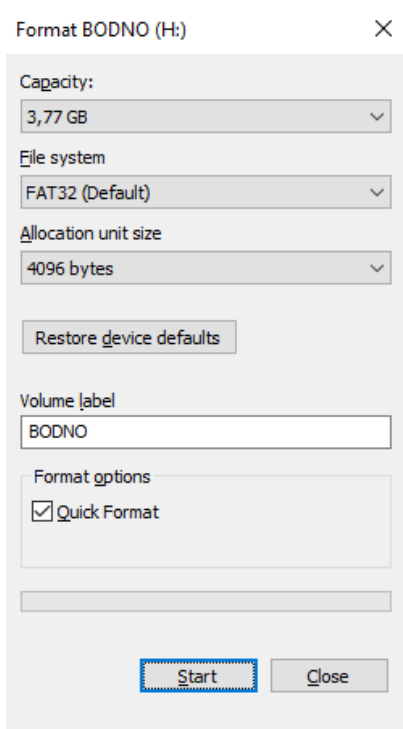

Please update Bodno to the latest version available from our website.

Then, with the Bodno USB license connected to your computer, open Bodno application and the license should be automatically detected.

If the license remains unrecognized, we suggest you format the dongle as FAT32.

To do so, go to My Computer, right-click on the Bodno USB dongle and click on Format...

Please refer to the image below:

After formatting the USB dongle, please open Bodno and the Bodno license should now be automatically recognized.

If further assistance is required, please don't hesitate to contact support@Bodno.com
